Dean's Certification: Some schools, programs, companies, and organizations require applicants to submit a Dean's Certification, which verifies a student's records. Four offices are involved in the certification process at the University of Georgia. The Office of the Registrar reports the enrollment verification and academic standing of the student, the Vice President for Instruction reports any violations of the University's academic honesty policy, the Equal Opportunity Office reports on any violations of the Non Discrimination and Anti-Harassment (NDAH) policies, and the Office of Student Conduct reports on any violations of the Code of Conduct and sanctions issued. The Dean's Certification process may be initiated by completing the Dean's Certification Authorization & Routing Slip available at https://conduct.uga.edu/content\_page/deans-certification-content-page.

Returning to the University: Before you will be eligible for readmission or registration, you must schedule a meeting with the Office of Student Conduct to confirm that you have complied with all sanctions and fulfilled all conditions of your suspension. A student on suspension should refer to their Informal Resolution Agreement or Formal Notice of Decision letter for any additional requirements during suspension and once the period of suspension has ended.

Should your suspension (including time away from the University outside of your suspension period) result in your non-enrollment at the University for one year or more, you will be required to apply for readmission to the University. Readmission is not automatic. Readmission will depend on (1) your academic eligibility, (2) your financial good standing with the University, (3) your compliance with all sanctions and fulfillment of all conditions of your suspension, (4) the University's consideration of any disciplinary or criminal matters other than the conduct on which your suspension was based, and (5) satisfaction of all other requirements for enrollment at the University.

For more information about the readmission process, please contact the office of the Registrar at (706) 542-4040.
